

Robert Backer, PhD, MEd
Neuropsychotherapist
Northern Medical Center

Dr Robert Backer is a Psychologist with 14 years' experience working in clinical, cognitive, and neuro-psychology. He holds advanced degrees from University of Pennsylvania and University of Delaware. Across a number of leading academic labs at UPenn, UD, NIH, Columbia, Yale, and NYU,

Dr. Backer has researched fundamental components of human perception, motivation, health, and wellbeing, and maintains a passion for bringing these insights to bear in translational interventions and his work with clients. As such, Dr. Backer's perspective at AIMS will incorporate perspectives from clinical and health psychology, as he discusses the role of the mind in beauty and flourishing in aesthetic medicine.
