

Jimmy C. Sung, MD, JD, FACS
Founder, Board-Certified Plastic & Reconstructive Surgeon
Tribeca Aesthetics

Dr. Jimmy C. Sung is a highly-skilled, board-certified plastic and reconstructive surgeon. He was awarded a dual full scholarship from the University of Illinois and received doctorate degrees in law (J.D.) and medicine (M.D.). He completed his plastic surgery training at the University of Pittsburgh, where he was the Chief Administrative Resident. The Pitt Plastic Surgery training program has consistently ranked number one in the country. He received his bachelor's degree in philosophy with honors from the University of Chicago. The focus of his undergraduate thesis was aesthetics-philosophy of art.

Dr. Sung has published numerous academic journals and textbooks. He is a recipient of the Excellence in Research Award from the American College of Surgeons. He is a member of American Society of Plastic Surgeons (ASPS), Northeastern Society of Plastic Surgeons (NESPS), The New York State Society of Plastic Surgeons (NYSSPS), American Society of Plastic Surgeons (ASPS) Committee on Regenerative Medicine, International Society of Plastic Regenerative Surgeons (ISPRS), a diplomate of the American Board of Plastic Surgery and a faculty member of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery at Weill Cornell Medical College.

Dr. Sung travels globally to attend medical conferences and maintain the latest and most modern technology and skills in cosmetic and reconstructive procedures. He is often invited as a guest to share his wide-ranging knowledge in both invasive and non-invasive cosmetic and reconstructive procedures.

In his spare time, Dr. Sung enjoys photography, traveling, film, and culinary pursuits. Dr. Sung lives and works in Manhattan and is active in community affairs.