

Anne N. Truong, MD
Truong Rehabilitation Center

Dr. Anne is a board-certified physician with over 20 years of clinical experience. A physician - entrepreneur, and innovator who thinks outside the box, Dr. Anne is a recognized leader in men's health, particularly in regenerative medicine. She is passionate about healing the cause of male sexual dysfunction, not just masking the symptoms, and shares her wisdom to teach doctors conferences worldwide. She evaluates and supports each patient from beginning to end to accomplish their individual goals, recapture their vitality, age gracefully, and live their best life.

When addressed early, sexual dysfunction can be treated and reversed. Dr. Anne is a firm believer that sexuality is vital to a high quality of life at any age, but especially after 50.

Since 2000, our practice has offered everything under one roof to treat everyone who wants an individualized, comprehensive plan—whether conservative or intervention—to achieve their best intimate self. We provide regenerative medicine for sexuality, aesthetics, and pain conditions, and Dr. Anne uses top-of-the-line technology for precision treatments.

Dr. Anne's commitment to her patients is uncompromised by the limitations imposed by insurance companies. When she takes on a patient, she dedicates herself to providing the best treatment plan that aligns with their goals. She affectionately calls her "Vitality Warriors," her patients" want to live their best life beyond 50. They trust her "patient's first" approach and rave about the world-class service and professionalism she and her team provide. Dr. Anne can help you enjoy the life you deserve, no matter your age, because she believes everyone should enjoy their intimate relationship beyond middle age.
